Join RRTC-EBP-VR researchers at the State-of-the-Science Conference: Advancing Evidence-Based Practices and Policies to Close the Employment Gap on April 8th (1:00 – 4:30) and April 9th (8:30-12:00), 2014 in Bethesda, MD.

We will provide vocational rehabilitation professionals with information and corresponding tools to improve employment rates and quality of employment outcomes within the state/federal vocational rehabilitation system. Presentation topics include:

- VR Counselors Perception of EBP: Value, Barriers, and Preparation Needs
  Presenters: Michael Leahy (MSU), Fong Chan (UW-Madison) and John Lui (SVRI)

- Best Practices in Achieving Employment Outcomes: Findings from a Multiple Case Study of Agencies in the Public Rehabilitation Program
  Moderator: Michael Leahy (MSU)

- Personal and Environmental Factors that Support and Encourage Innovation and Best Practices that Lead to Employment Outcomes in Public Rehabilitation.
  Moderator: Fong Chan (UW-Madison) and Tim Tansey (UW-Madison)

For more information, and to register, go to:

CRC Credits will be available to attendees.

The RRTC-EBP-VR develops evidence-based knowledge and tools for vocational rehabilitation practitioners that will improve employment rates, and quality of employment, for people with disabilities.
